

Introducing the

PIMCO Global Optima Index™

Designed exclusively for the Power Series of Index Annuities®

The PIMCO Global Optima Index™ offers a powerful combination of global diversification and enhanced return potential. Managed by Pacific Investment Management Company LLC (PIMCO), one of the world's leading investment managers, the Index seeks to provide upside return potential by dynamically adjusting its allocations to global equity and U.S. fixed income markets.¹

3 Key Features of the PIMCO Global Optima Index™

1. Upside Growth Potential Through Global Diversification¹

By expanding the equity allocation to include small-cap, mid-cap, international and emerging market securities, the Index can provide potentially stronger growth than a single-sector index. The Index has maintained a high equity allocation in up markets.

2. Smart Beta Approach

To help boost returns, the Index uses an alternative (also known as "smart beta") approach to equity rebalancing. Allocations are dynamically managed, using market size or capitalization as a starting point and favoring those sectors that have experienced strong recent gains (momentum) or appear to be underpriced (value).

3. Allocation Flexibility

Allocations to equities, fixed income and cash are adjusted on a daily basis. The Index has the flexibility to shift equity allocations from 0% to 100% to help capitalize on rising markets or protect against falling markets.

Index annuities are not a direct investment in the stock market. They are long-term insurance products with guarantees backed by the claims-paying ability of the issuing insurance company. They provide the potential for interest to be credited based in part on the performance of the specified index, without the risk of loss of premium due to market downturns or fluctuations. Index annuities may not be suitable or appropriate for all individuals.

Withdrawals may be subject to federal and/or state income taxes. An additional 10% federal tax may apply if clients make withdrawals or surrender their annuity before age 59½. Clients should consult their tax advisor regarding their specific situation.

Stocks and bonds are subject to risks, including the possible loss of principal. International stocks that provide exposure to foreign markets involve special risks, such as currency fluctuations, differing financial reporting and regulatory standards, and economic and political instability. These risks are highlighted when stocks are from emerging markets. Stocks of small-cap companies are generally more volatile and not as readily marketable as those of larger companies. Government bonds and Treasury bills are subject to interest rate risk, but they are backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government if held to maturity. The repayment of principal and interest of a corporate bond are guaranteed by the issuing company, and subject to default and credit risks. Indices are unmanaged and not available for direct investment.

Index annuities are issued by American General Life Insurance Company (AGL), 2727-A Allen Parkway, Houston, Texas 77019. Contract numbers: AG-800 (12/12) and AG-801 (12/12).
